Titanium, a metal that has excellent heat conduction, consistent heat, and allows for minimum temperature variation. Compared to ceramic, titanium can heat up much faster, while distributing the heat evenly throughout the surface of the barrel. It also has a high ionic output.

IONIC Charge allows heat to be radiated directly inside the hair, without drying the hair's external structure. This technology preserves the natural moisture in the hair, making it shinier, softer and healthier.

Easigrip - Hair Sectioning Pads

These super strong velcro hair grip pads hold all of the hair section up and out of the way when fitting including frizzy, unruly hairs that can be difficult to hold. No more trapping those fly away hairs in the hair extension rings when fitting, the Easigrip controls them all! They can also be used when cutting short hair to hold the hair out of the way that you don't want to include in the clipper work.
